STRATEGIC PARTNERS

CITY : EUROPE : FUTURE

Most Poles – like most Europeans and most of the world's population – live in cities.

The city is the center of events. A space for social interactions and a forum for exchanging ideas; a platform for democratic processes, dialogue, and cultural diversity. It was in cities that the ideas of liberalism, capitalism, civil rights, and tolerance were born, to later become enshrined in state systems.

The city is an incubator of social change. It is the leader of cohesion, the provider of social services, and the actual implementer of immigration policy.

The city is the driving force of the economy: a stimulator of development, creativity, and innovation; it is also a wealth generator – 85 percent of global GDP is generated in cities.

The city means independence and freedom of choice; the opportunity to be who you want to be. It provides a perspective of personal development, access to education, culture, and entertainment.

The city is a place where the greatest challenges of today are revealed. It is responsible for 75 percent of global consumption of natural resources, 60-80 percent of greenhouse gas emissions. It is unemployment, poverty, social segregation, and exclusion.

The city is an obligation. A social, an economic, an environmental, and a climate-related one – it is the key to solving global problems and improving the well-being of the next generations of citizens.

The city is the future.

In 2024, Poles voted in local and European elections. The way in which cities, Poland, and Europe will respond to the most important problems of the modern world will depend on the conscious votes of citizens and the policies pursued by their elected representatives. After a long eight years, we are part of the solution again.

Europe is something more than a continent. It is a community of values and the most successful economic development projects based on the idea of a common market within the European Union.

Europe is a space of freedom and security, and in this context – urgent challenges related to the ongoing Russian war in Ukraine: the need to intensify actions to maintain partnership relations with the United States and the United Kingdom and develop our own defense doctrine and energy independence.

Europe means gender equality, protection of human rights, and respect for diversity. It is also a growing need to strengthen these values, which are fundamental to democracy in the face of growing populism and global migration.

Europe is in urgent need of institutional reform that will allow it to maintain the community without deepening the phenomenon of the two-speed European Union while strengthening the agency and dynamics of action, which are a condition for future enlargement.

Europe means a development based on constant economic growth, price stability, and a highly competitive market economy. Today, it is also necessary to reconcile these goals with ethical challenges regarding emerging technologies and artificial intelligence, as well as the needs of environmental protection. While pursuing these goals, Europe cannot lose its global perspective.

Europe means a commitment to a green transformation: creating infrastructure and an environment that will allow for a smooth transition to low- and zero-emission without harming national economies and the needs of citizens.

Europe – strong and united – is a condition for peace, economic development, and the well-being of its citizens.

Europe is the future.

FRIEDRICH NAUMANN
FOUNDATION For Freedom.

Central Europe

The Friedrich Naumann Foundation for Freedom (FNF) is the liberal German political foundation. The headquarter is based in Potsdam.

1958

FNF was founded in 1958 by Theodor Heuss, the first president of West Germany.

1968

The Archive of Liberalism, established in 1968 and located in Gummersbach, Germany, preserves the history of liberal thought. It collects key documents from national and international liberal organizations, including political parties and their youth wings.

1988

The International Academy for Leadership (IAF), the global exchange and training arm of FNF, has been promoting liberal values through high-quality seminars and inter-national programs since its inception. Established in Sintra, Portugal, in 1988, the IAF relocated to Gummersbach, Germany, in 1995.

2024

FNF operates 12 offices in Germany and maintains a global presence with over 40 international offices, covering more than 60 countries worldwide.

Central Europe

The Prague office focuses on the countries in the Central European region and supports local liberal forces with projects that foster democratic values and freedoms. This includes the think tank network 4Liberty.eu, which creates reform concepts and policy papers to promote free and open societies across Europe. Moreover, the Prague office actively supports and co-organizes renowned forums of dialogue in the region, such as Freedom Games in Poland, Forum 2000 in Czechia, and Budapest Forum in Hungary.

Wspieraj dobra publiczne i odbieraj nagrody

Octant to innowacyjna platforma przeznaczona do prowadzenia eksperymentów w zakresie partycypacyjnego finansowania dóbr publicznych.

Umożliwia ona badanie mechanizmów zdecentralizowanego zarządzania, a za aktywne uczestnictwo w testach użytkownicy są wynagradzani kryptowalutami.

Stworzyliśmy ją, aby zrozumieć czynniki wpływające na naszą hojność, zaobserwować mechanizmy koordynacji między darczyńcami oraz odkryć skuteczne metody mobilizowania do działań na rzecz dobra wspólnego.
